

MSc Finance and Accounting

Our popular MSc Degree in Finance and Accounting has been designed for graduate students who wish to develop an understanding of the complexities of accounting and finance functions and the importance attributed to these functions in the successful delivery of organisational objectives. Students who enrol on this degree will benefit from enhanced focus on key accounting principles, in conjunction with specific management orientated modules. On completion of this degree, students will appreciate the importance of financial management and how the principles of accounting are an essential element of organisational success.

Programme modules

Programme members complete six 20 credit modules and a 60 credit project as follows:

- Managing Finance (20 Credits)
- Corporate Finance and International Financial Management (20 Credits)
- Management Accounting (20 Credits)
- Financial Reporting (20 Credits)
- Strategic Planning and Policy Formulation (20 Credits)
- Research Methodology and Dissertation Planning (20 Credits)
- The MSc Research Project (60 Credits)

Assessment

All 20 credit modules, except for the Research Methodology and Dissertation Planning module will typically require a work assignment of approximately 3,000 words which will contribute 50% of the total marks for the module, and a two hour written examination or case study which contributes a further 50% of the module mark. The Research Methodology and Dissertation Planning module requires a detailed dissertation proposal. The Project module requires a submission of a research dissertation of between 15,000 and 20,000 words.
